Age Learning

I Just Gotta Be Me: Authenticity and Canadian Politics. Scripted politicians sticking to carefully crafted messages has long been a part of politics in Canada. In other words, communications discipline now goes hand-in-hand with party discipline. But these days voters are craving “authentic” politicians, and this may be contributing to the rise of populist candidates who often say and do whatever they want. What do our Members of Parliament think about their own authenticity when it comes to their roles as elected representatives? What limitations does authenticity face in a parliamentary context like Canada's? This lecture will provide some preliminary insights into the role of authenticity in Canadian politics. About the Presenter Anna Esselment is an Associate Professor of Political Science and the Associate Dean of Graduate Studies in the Faculty of Arts at the University of Waterloo. She researches and publishes about Canadian political parties, elections and campaigns, political mar

Learn Morse Code with Cambridge Amateur Radio

Learn this well-known code used in amateur radio, aviation, and the military. Join members of the Cambridge Amateur Radio Club in an eight-week series of classes that will teach you to use Morse code and some of the history behind it. Morse code, or CW as known among amateur radio operators, is using a combination of short and long 'beeps' of a tone. The number and the combination of short and long 'beeps' will signify a letter. You will be surprised at how quickly you adapt to sense the difference among the various combinations and translate it to a letter, forming words and sentences. Learning Morse code is a great way to challenge your mind and keep it sharp. Amateur Radio (ham radio) is a popular hobby and service that brings people, electronics, and communication together. People use amateur radio to talk across town, around the world, or even into space, all without the Internet or cell phones. It's fun, social, educational, and can be a lifeline during times of need. Stitching Science

October 22, 2024 - March 30, 2025 Cambridge Art Galleries' inaugural pop-up exhibition at Idea Exchange, Old Post Office, features the work of Guelph-based artist Lauren Wright Vartanian. Her latest work, Stitching Science, merges art and science in 27 intricate diagrammatic embroideries. A culmination of three years of work and countless stitches, these embroideries, each representing a letter of the alphabet, depict scientific concepts in a creative and accessible way. This exhibition coincides with Wright Vartanian's book release, Stitching Science: Exploring Science from A to Z, published by Firefly Books in the fall of 2024. Lauren Wright Vartanian is a multidisciplinary artist currently focusing on textile art. She has a Bachelor of Fine Arts in Drawing and Painting from OCAD University, where she graduated in 2006. She has been creating and selling art under the name Neurons and Nebulas since 2016. Her work blends art and science in a way that is fun and educational, but also beau

"The Dark Side of Galt" Halloween Edition Evening Walking Tours

As we gear up for the spookiest night of the year, join us for a special edition of our Dark Side of Galt walks as we explore tales of some of the ghostly inhabitants that make up Galt's downtown core. We've compiled all of our favourite stories to share about experiences with the paranormal, and who knows, before the night's over maybe we'll even have some new stories to add of our own. Please note: Tours begin at 6:30pm and 7:00pm sharp and run for approximately 90-minutes, departing from, and finishing up at McDougall Cottage unless otherwise stated. The tours may include hills, stairs and uneven terrain. Participants should dress for the weather. Phones are recommended, but not required, to access photos of the sites we are visiting. Flashlights are also recommended but not required. No washroom facilities available during tour. Ages 14 + only for walking tours. Halloween Pumpkin Pop-Up Display

October 21 - November 1, 2024 Sculpted and carved pumpkins abound in this spooktacular Halloween pop-up display featuring the work of Cambridge-based artist, Greg Latimer. About the artist Greg Latimer is a local once-a-year artist who sculpts pumpkins, squashes, and potatoes, and writes about himself in the third person. He skins and sculpts unsuspecting fruits and vegetables with clay ribbon sculpting tools and then preserves his work in various glass containers filled with vinegar. Don't worry though- The rest of the year he's actually pretty normal. Greg won the Cambridge Public Library Pumpkin Carving Contest last year and demonstrated his skills at an Artist-at-Work showcase at the Kitchener Public Library in 2019. He lives in Cambridge with his son, who also loves carving pumpkins. Stitching Science

October 22, 2024 - March 30, 2025 Cambridge Art Galleries' inaugural pop-up exhibition at Idea Exchange, Old Post Office, features the work of Guelph-based artist Lauren Wright Vartanian. Her latest work, Stitching Science, merges art and science in 27 intricate diagrammatic embroideries. A culmination of three years of work and countless stitches, these embroideries, each representing a letter of the alphabet, depict scientific concepts in a creative and accessible way. This exhibition coincides with Wright Vartanian's book release, Stitching Science: Exploring Science from A to Z, published by Firefly Books in the fall of 2024. Lauren Wright Vartanian is a multidisciplinary artist currently focusing on textile art. She has a Bachelor of Fine Arts in Drawing and Painting from OCAD University, where she graduated in 2006. She has been creating and selling art under the name Neurons and Nebulas since 2016. Her work blends art and science in a way that is fun and educational, but also beau

Tim Cook: Good Allies

How Canada and the United States fought together to defeat fascism. Stop by the Rookery Books table to purchase books and get them signed by your favourite author as a memento of this thrilling event. The Good Allies is a masterful account of how Canadians and Americans made the transition from wary rivals to steadfast allies, and how Canada thrived in the shadow of the military and global superpower. In exploring this complex and crucial dimension of the Second World War and its legacy, Cook recounts two nations' story of co-operation, of sacrifice, and of bleeding together to save the world from the fascist threat. Registration is required to confirm attendance. Limited entry without registration may be available at the door. Doors open at 6:00 pm. About the Author Tim Cook is Chief Historian and Director of Research at the Canadian War Museum. His bestselling books have won multiple awards, including four Ottawa Book Awards for Literary Non-Fiction and two C.P. Stacey Awards for the best b
